Billy Gilded Junior was born of Billy Gilded Creator who was married to June Julia Jones.
Billy Gilded Junior was a bright life. He was young and excited and this made him brilliant. It

Billy Gilded Creator himself was born of Travel and Deborah. No-one knew much of Travel, not even Deborah. She was a girl of the village of Merton who encountered the wandering youth called Travel. All she remembers of him is that he was like a spirit, not a person at all of flesh and blood, but more a wraith, a holy light that emanated warmth and joy. She recalled his eyes shone differently each time she met him, different colours they were. He was average height, but slim and supple, and his arms were ever twining round her waist and head. His mouth was unbearable in its sensual beauty. She dreamed adoringly of him after they met in the street of the village. He worked his way upon her, and his seduction was effortless, and she yielded easily; but once the child was born, a son to become Billy Gilded Creator, Travel moved on, and she never saw nor heard of him again.

Bringing up Billy Gilded Creator, she was aided by Steven Strange, the son of Georgian Merchant by Eva Goode.

Billy Gilded Creator grew a sublime, supreme rebel of the late 20th century. He rebelled against everything the straight world stood for, even its profession of its existence he laughed at.

He conceived of his father, Travel, as a flower power, peace loving rebel against the capitalist war members, and saw his father as free of all that, and more, which is why he wandered as Travel the wanderer had. Whereas he Billy Gilded Creator himself felt for all, and loosed his life into a life of play and fun, he lived, as we have already seen, with several women, all admiring and serving his play games.

He had opted to marry one of them June Julia, and bore her their son Billy Gilded Junior, the character of our story.
